Holocaust & Amistad: Construct an argument to explain how the expansion of slavery violated human rights and contradicted American ideals.

Unit Essential Questions:

- 1. How did America's pre-Revolutionary relationship with Britain influence the structure of the first national government?
- 2. What weaknesses in the Articles of Confederation led to the effort to draft a new constitution?
- 3. How did the delegates to the Constitutional Convention balance competing interests?
- 4. What compromises were reached at the Constitutional Convention?
- 5. What were the major arguments for and against the Constitution of 1787 in the leading Federalist and Anti-Federalist writings and in the ratification debates?

Unit Enduring Understandings:

- 1. During the Constitutional Era, the Americans made two attempts to establish a workable government based on republican principles.
- 2.The Articles of Confederation created a weak national government and there were many weaknesses in the Articles of Confederation including the Virginia Plan and the New Jersey Plan.
- 3.The Constitution created a new, stronger government that replaced the Confederation
- 4. The development of the Constitution of the United States was significant to the foundation of the American republic.

- 6. Who were the leading Federalists and Anti-Federalists?
- 7. How did Americans create a national government that respected both the independence of states and the rights of individuals?
- 8. How did Chief Justice John Marshall contribute to the growth of the United States Supreme Court's importance in relation to the other branches of the national government?
- 9. How has our 220-year-old Constitution remained a living document?
- 10. What are the fundamental principles underlying the Constitution?
- 11. What are the rights and responsibilities of citizens?
- 12. How does the government established by the Constitution embody the purposes, values and principles of the American Dream?
- 13. How can a government decision be based on a Constitution that does not explicitly state the answer?

- 5. Elements of Federalist and Anti-Federalist thought are reflected in contemporary political debate on issues such as the size and role of government, federalism, and the protection of individual rights.
- 6. George Washington and Alexander Hamilton were leading Federalists and Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry were leading Anti-Federalists.
- 7. The Constitution of the United States of America established a federal system of government based on power being shared between the national and state governments.
- 8.Important legal precedents established by the Marshall Court strengthened the role of the United States Supreme Court as an equal branch of the national government.
- 9.American liberties are protected by the U.S. Constitution and a Bill of Rights
- 10. Clear definition and a system of checks and balances help three branches of government share power
- 11. Twenty-seven amendments, including the Bill of Rights, protected individual rights, and the common good.
- 12. The Ancient Roman and Enlightenment influences on American Democracy.
- 13. The three branches of government: legislative, judicial and executive

Students will know:

- How the Articles of Confederation provided for a weak national government.
- How the Articles gave Congress no power to tax or regulate commerce among the states.
- How the Articles provided for no common currency.
- How the Articles gave each state one vote regardless of size.
 Why the Articles provided for no executive or judicial branches.

Students will be able to:

- Explain the origins of the Constitution, including the Articles of Confederation
- Identify the major compromises necessary to produce the Constitution
- Analyze the arguments of Federalists and Anti-Federalists during the ratification debates and their relevance to political debate today.

- How the weaknesses in the Articles of Confederation led to the effort to draft a new constitution.
- How the Constitutional Convention was a group of state delegates who met in Philadelphia and decided not to revise the Articles of Confederation but to write a new constitution. Why George Washington was elected president of the Constitutional Convention.
- Why delegates debated over how much power should be given to the new national government and how large and small states should be represented in the new government.
- How the structure of the new national government included three separate branches of government: Legislative, Executive and Judicial
- Why the Great Compromise (NJ Plan & VA Plan) decided how many votes each state would have in the Senate and the House of Representatives.
- Why the Constitution was signed at the end of the convention.
- Why the Ratification of the Constitution needed a minimum of nine of the thirteen states to vote in favor of the Constitution before it could become law.
- Why the Bill of Rights was added to the Constitution.
- Why these first ten amendments to the Constitution provide a written guarantee of individual rights (e.g., freedom of speech, freedom of religion).
- How Federalists advocated the importance of a strong central government, especially to promote economic development and public improvements. Today, those who see a primary role for the federal government in solving national problems are heirs to this tradition.

Vocabulary:

Constitution, Bill of rights, impressment, treaty, Articles of Confederation, ceded, privatized, Northwest Ordinance, depression,

- Analyze each article of the Constitution.
- Examine the significance of the Bill of Rights
- Compare and contrast the Amendments that were significant to the colonists to American citizens today.

Holocaust & Amistad: Evaluate the impact of the treatment of Native Americans on the political and economic expansion of the United States.

Unit Essential Questions:

- 1. Why did competing political parties develop during the 1790s?
- 2. What factors influenced American westward movement?
- 3. What were the causes of the War of 1812?
- 4. In what ways did political democracy change in the years following the War of 1812?
- 5. What issues divided America in the first half of the nineteenth century?

Students will know: (Content, Noun)

- Why the controversy over the Federalists' support for the Bank of the United States, the Jay Treaty, and the undeclared war on France contributed to the emergence of an organized opposition party, the Democratic-Republicans, led by Thomas Jefferson and James Madison.
- How the presidential election of 1800, won by Thomas Jefferson, was the first American presidential election in which power was peacefully transferred from one political party to another.
- Why the Federalists,led by John Adams and Alexander Hamilton, typically believed in a strong national government and commercial economy. They were supported by bankers and business interests in the Northeast.

Unit Enduring Understandings:

- 1.Different views of economic and foreign policy issues led to the development of the first American political parties.
- 2. Economic and strategic interests, supported by popular beliefs, led to territorial expansion to the Pacific Ocean.
- 3. The new American republic prior to the Civil War experienced dramatic territorial expansion, immigration, economic growth, and industrialization.
- 4. Americans, stirred by their hunger for land and the ideology of "Manifest Destiny," flocked to new frontiers.
- 5.Conflicts between American settlers and Indian nations in the Southeast and the old Northwest resulted in the relocation of many Indians to reservations.

Students will be able to:

- Explain the principles and issues that prompted Thomas Jefferson to organize the first opposition political party
- Identify the key issues of the election of 1800.
- Identify the economic, political, and geographic factors that led to territorial expansion and its impact on the American Indians
- Examine the reasons why James Madison asked Congress to declare war on Great Britain in 1812 and how this divided the nation
- Analyze the significance of the Monroe Doctrine and American foreign policy
- Apply the vocabulary in student reading, writing, speaking and listening. Classroom Word Wall created.

- Why the Democratic-Republicans believed in a weak national government and an agricultural economy. They were supported by farmers, artisans, and frontier settlers in the South Expansion resulting from the Louisiana Purchase and War of 1812.
- How Thomas Jefferson, as president in 1803, purchased the huge Louisiana Territory from France, which doubled the size of the United States overnight.
- Why Jefferson authorized the Lewis and Clark expedition to explore the new territories that lay west of the Mississippi River.
- How Sacajawea, an American Indian woman, served as their guide and translator.
- Why the war of 1812 occurred.
- How the Monroe Doctrine (1823) stated the following:
 - The American continents should not be considered for future colonization by any European powers.
 - Nations in the Western Hemisphere were inherently different from those of Europe—i.e.
 - They were republics by nature rather than monarchies
 - Why would the United States regard it as a threat to her own peace and safety if any attempt by European powers to impose their system on any independent state in the Western Hemisphere. The United States would not interfere in European affairs.

Holocaust & Amistad: Slavery in the South; North and South Divided
Unit Essential Questions:	Unit Enduring Understandings:
1. When is war justified?	1.Explain why conflict arose over the issue of slavery in western

- 2 How should we handle conflict?
- 3. What were the causes of the Civil War?
- 4. What were the major military and political events of the Civil War?
- 5. Who were the key leaders of the Civil War?
- 6. What characteristics do you think great military leaders need to have?
- 7. Why did Southern states secede?
- 8.Did any state have a right to leave the Union?
- 9. Was Lincoln right to use military force to keep the Union intact? 10. How did the ideas expressed in the Emancipation Proclamation and the Gettysburg Address support the North's war aims?
- 11. What was Lincoln's vision of the American nation as professed in the Gettysburg Address?

territories.

War can be justified if a compromise can not be met.

- 2. Explain how the Compromise of 1850 tried to resolve the issue of slavery.
- 3. Analyze the divide between the North and South and how it began to grow. The north was thriving with industry and the south was struggling on the back bone of slaves.
- 4. Analyze how the south seceded from the US and created their own country with its own leaders and Constitution. It was not recognized by foreign nations.
- 5. Discuss the key leaders needed to handle conflict in the best interests of the American people. Robert E Lee and Ulysses S Grant were leaders who had different views on our nation's growth.
- 6. Discuss the importance of a strong leader.
- 7. Analyzing the cultural, economic, and constitutional differences between the North and the South eventually resulted in the Civil War as southern states began to secede .
- 8. Analyze the job of the President which entails keeping the union together.
- 9. Summarize how the South feared that the North would take control of Congress, and Southerners began to proclaim states' rights as a means of self-protection. The North believed that the nation was a union that could not be divided. While the Civil War did not begin as a war to abolish slavery, issues surrounding slavery deeply divided the nation. The secession of Southern states triggered a long and costly war that concluded with Northern victory and resulted in the restoration of the Union and emancipation of the slaves. The Civil War put constitutional government to its most important test as the debate over the power of the federal government versus states' rights reached a climax.

The survival of the United States as one nation was at risk, and the nation's ability to bring to reality the ideals of liberty, equality, and justice depended on the outcome of the war.

- 10. Analyze Lincoln's Gettysburg Address that stated the United States was one nation, not a federation of independent states. For Lincoln, the Civil War was about preserving the Union as a nation "of the people, by the people, and for the people."
- 11. Discuss how Lincoln believed the Civil War was fought to fulfill the promise of the Declaration of Independence and was a "Second American Revolution." He described a different vision for the United States from the one that had prevailed from the beginning of the Republic to the Civil War.

Students will know: (Content, Noun)

- The causes of the Civil War.
- Locations and significance of each battle of the Civil War,
- Identify key leaders of the Civil War.
- The significance of the Emancipation Proclamation and the Gettysburg Address.

Vocabulary:
